STAY SAFE RIDE SMART

A bicycle is a great way to get around, but stay safe by following the rules of the road.

- A bicycle is like any other vehicle, so you must follow the rules of the road.
 - Bicycles must follow all traffic controls such as signs and signals.
 - Bicycles cannot travel the wrong way down a one way street.
 - Bicycles must be ridden on the right hand side of a two way street.
 - You must signal all turns with hand signals.
 - Headsets cannot be worn while cycling.
 - Riding a bike while under the influence can get you a DUI in Florida.
- Lights are required between sunset and sunrise
 - A white light is required in front and a red light in the rear.
- Riding on the sidewalk or crosswalk is permitted but with these provisions
 - Pedestrians have the right of way. Yield to pedestrians.
 - When passing pedestrians, you must signal your intent before doing so.
- Anyone under the age of 16 must wear a helmet.

Here are a few additional tips that you may find helpful.

- Lock up your bike at all times. If not, you'll probably be walking home.
 - Pass the lock through the frame and the front tire.
 - Be careful not to lock your bike to an adjoining bike by accident.
 - If you lock your bike to private property, it may be impounded.
- When approaching occupied cars, be ready to react if the door opens.

Enjoy your time seeing the best of Key West!

"RAISING THEM: OUR ADVENTURE IN GENDER CREATIVE PARENTING"

BY KYL MYERS

c.2020, Brilliance Audio | $34.99 | 6 discs, 7:18 in length

Pink or blue?

When you're pregnant, everybody asks that question. What kind of clothing or toys will you require: dolls or trucks, pink or blue? They'll want to know about the gender reveal party, and what kind of names you're considering. Do you want a boy or girl or, as in the new audiobook "Raising Them" by Kyl Myers, do you mind not knowing for a few years?

Long before she ever became a mother, even before she met and married her husband, Brent, Kyl Myers had thought about what she calls "gender creative parenting."

Myers identifies as queer and she was somewhat of an activist, so she was pretty well-versed on a subject that asks why we, as a society, place emphasis on the chromosomes of an infant when physical, often intimate, body parts have nothing to do with simply being a child. Once Myers was pregnant, this became more than just something to think about, and she and her husband decided to raise their child gender-free.

They weren't the first to do so: in years past, other parents around the world went public with successful gender creative parenting. Still, it took plenty of determined pre-planning: Myers would deny knowledge of the baby's gender to anyone who didn't absolutely, genuinely need to know. That meant restricting diaper-duty, and it meant four grandparents who wouldn't know their grandchild's gender until the child was several months old.

Once Zoomer Coyote entered the world, there would be no pink or blue bassinet cards in the hospital nursery. Myers had to learn to find non-gendered infant and toddler clothing for her child, gender-neutral-hued toys for them to play with, and items that didn't scream "Boy!" or "Girl!". Later, Zoomer's daycare was "cool" with the neutrality, but strangers and even other parents were a challenge, and were nonetheless challenged to open their minds.

"Raising Them" will bring out a lot of emotions that will likely be dependent on which side of parenting you stand. It's intriguing, but exhausting, too chirpy, and too, too sunny. It's also too precious by half, and the cute-Zoomer tales wear thin after a (very, very short) while. And yet, the idea of giving your child time to know themselves is intriguing. Still, author Kyl Myers should be commended for not throwing in the towel with hurricane force.

Indeed, her struggles were exactly what you might expect.

Although... particularly if you're expecting a baby, Myers may inspire you. Clearly, gender creative parenting involves work, vigilance, and forethought, and while it's not for everyone, it's a compelling enough idea to stick in your mind like glue. You'll be convinced that it's worth a try, even if only sometimes.

And this: if you can't rest without knowing, Myers drops hints to soothe your boy-or-girl curiosity, but that's not the end of this story. No, this is a website-supported, mind-opening, ongoing tale for parents-to-be, or for anyone who wishes they'd been reared in a similar kind of household. That you? Read "Raising Them," or you'll be blue.

Get there. Have fun. Get back.

MY BIG GAY LIFE

Brad Loekle

LOVE IS BLIND

For the last year I haven't had sex. This wasn't intentional or some sort of political statement. It's just between the pandemic and the perpetual lockdown in Los Angeles, meeting someone has become impossible. I'm 42, the world is on fire, and I just don't have the energy to answer your "sup" on Scruff anymore. But this time away from tummy sticks has given me a great clarity about all of your dalliances with love.

I've noticed that, when you first meet someone you're really into, you basically become love delusional. I mean, love has always been blind but is she also an idiot? I had a friend tell me, as proof of the destiny that he and his new trick shared, that since they both love the same Chinese food, it means they're compatible. Or even "meant to be". The dish they both share a passion for.... Is General Tso's Chicken. Are you kidding me?!?! You're telling me that it might be true love because you both love chicken?! Everyone loves chicken. It's Chicken! It's the meat we compare everything else against as a marker of its universally loved flavor. We call young hot guys chicken. The most common fake meat is... chicken. You've got soy beans and other crafty vegetables doing chicken drag... THAT'S how much everyone likes chicken, STEVE!

And if it's not someone telling me that chicken brought them together, it's someone rationalizing all the shit they don't have in common with their new love as also being some sign from the gods. Someone just said the following thing to me on the phone, and it was all I could do to not come through the phone and smack them.

"I'm a vegan and he eats ribs like 3 times a week. But I think it means we balance each other out!"

What?! What kind of back bending logic is that?! Oh, he thinks it's cute you exist solely on soy and self-riotousness? Tell me how he feels about your vegan "lifestyle" in a few months when you start really letting those vegan corpse farts loose in the bedroom. Have you ever been near a vegan fart? It's like if napalm married a baby's diaper. And I mean one of those baby's diapers that weighs more than the baby when you separate them. Remember to keep that universal balance in mind when your carnivore kiss-and-tell is climbing up on you with his meat sweats and burping up dead baby pigs at breakfast. Thoughts and prayers, kids.

God help the poor, lost soul who makes the mistake of showing interest in me once I have the vaccine. Best not to talk too much. I don't care what your favorite dish is. Just stick it in!

Local Bartender Interviews

By Jameson Rabbitt

DONALD DEIHL IS PROOF OLD KEY WEST HOSPITALITY IS STILL THRIVING.

Born and raised in Key West, Donald Deihl is a delicacy. Growing up in Key West running around the streets of Key West barefoot Donald describes the old Key West as a small town with no crime where people left their doors unlocked, the neighbors would walk in your house unannounced just to say hi; his teachers wore cargo shorts and flip-flops and had tattoos. His grandfather somewhat of a local celebrity for refusing to wear shoes to any public place can still be seen walking around the island barefoot. Donald experienced Old Key West to the fullest and has seen how the island has shifted from “mom and pop” stores and restaurants to capitalist chain stores, however he is proof that Old Key West charm can still be found within the charming streets of Key West.

Donald was always attracted to the night life, he started sneaking into the 801 when he was 16 years old to see the Drag Queens perform and now full circle, you can find him behind the bar shaking your favorite martini at the cabaret, the main bar, and also the infamous Saloon 1. He's always had an eye for fashion and an ear for music, when he's not serving drinks he's serving looks as the the General Manager at Graffiti, Key West's premier Men's Boutique carrying everything from swim wear to Key West formal wear, (shorts and Flip-flops).

He is currently in a relationship but will not be spending Valentine's with his significant other due to work and such (he will be working at Saloon 1 for Valentine's), but recommends Azur, local Mediterranean restaurant to all the love bird that will be flocking down for Valentine's Day or a sunset cruise, however to really seal the deal Donald recommends a "rim-job", which you will have to find out for yourself what it means at the amazing sweets emporium - Better than Sex, He also recommends a slice of the "Between My Velvet Sheets Cheesecake". On his days off he enjoys getting out on the water, hitting the beach and longboarding around the island, his drink of choice is a Tito's Soda with a splash of cranberry juice.

Music is another passion for Donald, he has always been drawn to the heavier side of music, his favorites genres include: Metal, Goth, Old-School Punk, but as many locals know -Donald loves Lady Gaga (he is a proud owner of the Chromatica pink jock-strap). His favorite Lady Gaga memory to date was the time he flew to New York City to see her and Tony Bennett perform at Radio City Music Hall, both performers took turns singing acapella to demonstrate the acoustics of the hall and also to showcase the powerhouse behind their voices.

Happy Valentine's!!! - XOXO Jameson.

ASK NANA

E-mail your questions to nana@keywestgayrag.com

Dear Nana,

I've gotten really into eating fish as part of my new year's resolution to eat healthier. But now my kitchen smells like fish all the time. Even when I'm not cooking fish. Any tips on how to get the fish smell out?

I have to say that when I began reading your question, I really thought you were talking in euphemisms. But apparently not! You're not talking about carpet munching you're actually talk about carp munching. Well, no one can ever say that, even if my mind was in the gutter, that I still wasn't about to help someone out. Okay, first things first: don't leave raw fish in the fridge for more than a day. This will help a lot. Also keep it really well sealed when it's in your fridge. I'm talking sealed container. Think John Travolta as the "Boy in the Bubble". When it comes to your hands, sink, cutting boards, etc. coarse salt and lemon juice scrubbed all over will do the trick. When it comes to the general aroma of fish in the house... I don't know what to tell you. Fish is, indeed, fish. And it's always going to smell like fish. Its what fish does. So, buy a scented candle and open up the windows. And, hey, look on the bright side: if you can still smell the fish smell around you... it means you don't have Covid!

Dear Nana,

My boyfriend is really into daddy/boy role play. Like more and more so as time goes on. We're 8 years apart in age and I've always liked it. But lately he's really getting intense with it. He's even calling me his "little boy" in front of people in public. One time my sister was there and it was super awkward for me. I don't want to "sex shame" him but I also don't want this to go further or get more out of control? What would you do?

Well, I certainly wouldn't let a guy call me his fuck-daughter in front of my goddamn sister, for starters! It's not sex shaming to call a possible red flag on sexual behavior that fetishizes actual children. Now, assumedly you aren't 12... ASSUMEDLY... so it still falls into the realm of role play. But that being said, role play has its place and its place is usually not in the super market or the neighbor's BBQ. It is completely acceptable for you to ask that he keeps the daddy talk limited to the bedroom (or wherever it is this pervert likes to pound you). And if he doesn't get the message, show up at his job in a diaper, sucking a lollipop, and see if he's cool with that. That'll fix him.

DO YOU HAVE PROBLEMS? OF COURSE YOU DO! WHY NOT LET NANA HELP YOU?!

WHORE--SCOPES

AQUARIUS JAN 20 - FEB 18

With masks still being required, someone might actually find you attractive.

PISCES FEB 19 - MAR 20

I understand that you're bilingual. You speak English and profanity.

ARIES MAR 21 - APR 19

You're pretty lazy but look at the bright side of things. You'll never be as lazy as whoever named the fireplace

TAURUS APR 20 - MAY 20

The closest you've been to a diet this year is erasing food searches from your browser history.

GEMINI MAY 21 - JUN 20

So, you work out religiously. Christmas and Easter.

CANCER JUN 21 - JUL 22

You should get an exercise bike. That way your dirty clothes won't have to sit on the floor.

LEO JUL 23 - AUG 22

You know it's time to do the laundry when you dry off with a sneaker.

VIRGO AUG 23 - SEP 22

Happy one-year anniversary to the Lean Cuisine in your freezer!

LIBRA SEP 23 - OCT 22

Before Facebook, you didn't know any strangers.

SCORPIO OCT 23 - NOV 21

You got all my looks from your father. Mostly just the look of disappointment.

SAGITTARIUS NOV 22 - DEC 21

You tried to use "penis" as your password and the computer said it was too short.

CAPRICORN DEC 22 - JAN 19

I guess you gave up on going for the buns of steel instead going for the buns of cinnamon.

Always something new for you!
