STAY SAFE RIDE SMART

A bicycle is a great way to get around, but stay safe by following the rules of the road.

- A bicycle is like any other vehicle, so you must follow the rules of the road.
 - Bicycles must follow all traffic controls such as signs and signals.
 - Bicycles cannot travel the wrong way down a one way street.
 - Bicycles must be ridden on the right hand side of a two way street.
 - You must signal all turns with hand signals.
 - Headsets cannot be worn while cycling.
 - Riding a bike while under the influence can get you a DUI in Florida.
- Lights are required between sunset and sunrise
 - A white light is required in front and a red light in the rear.
- Riding on the sidewalk or crosswalk is permitted but with these provisions
 - Pedestrians have the right of way. Yield to pedestrians.
 - When passing pedestrians, you must signal your intent before doing so.
- Anyone under the age of 16 must wear a helmet.

Here are a few additional tips that you may find helpful.

- Lock up your bike at all times. If not, you'll probably be walking home.
 - Pass the lock through the frame and the front tire.
 - Be careful not to lock your bike to an adjoining bike by accident.
 - If you lock your bike to private property, it may be impounded.
- When approaching occupied cars, be ready to react if the door opens.

Enjoy your time seeing the best of Key West!

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

What is the most important information I should know about BIKTARVY®?

BIKTARVY may cause serious side effects:

- ▶ Worsening of hepatitis B (HBV) infection. If you have both HIV-1 and HBV and stop taking BIKTARVY, your HBV may suddenly get worse. Do not stop taking BIKTARVY without first talking to your healthcare provider, as they will need to monitor your health.

Who should not take BIKTARVY?

Do not take BIKTARVY if you take:

- ▶ dofetilide
- ▶ rifampin
- ▶ any other medicines to treat HIV-1

What are the other possible side effects of BIKTARVY?

Serious side effects of BIKTARVY may also include:

- ▶ Changes in your immune system. Your immune system may get stronger and begin to fight infections. Tell your healthcare provider if you have any new symptoms after you start taking BIKTARVY.
- ▶ Kidney problems, including kidney failure. Your healthcare provider should do blood and urine tests to check your kidneys. If you develop new or worse kidney problems, they may tell you to stop taking BIKTARVY.
- ▶ Too much lactic acid in your blood (lactic acidosis), which is a serious but rare medical emergency that can lead to death. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you get these symptoms: weakness or being more tired than usual, unusual muscle pain, being short of breath or fast breathing, stomach pain with nausea and vomiting, cold or blue hands and feet, feel dizzy or lightheaded, or a fast or abnormal heartbeat.

- ▶ Severe liver problems, which in rare cases can lead to death. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you get these symptoms: skin or the white part of your eyes turns yellow, dark "tea-colored" urine, light-colored stools, loss of appetite for several days or longer, nausea, or stomach-area pain.

The most common side effects of BIKTARVY in clinical studies were diarrhea (6%), nausea (5%), and headache (5%). Tell your healthcare provider if you have any side effects that bother you or don't go away.

What should I tell my healthcare provider before taking BIKTARVY?

- ▶ All your health problems. Be sure to tell your healthcare provider if you have or have had any kidney or liver problems, including hepatitis virus infection.
- ▶ All the medicines you take, including prescription and over-the-counter medicines, antacids, laxatives, vitamins, and herbal supplements. BIKTARVY and other medicines may affect each other. Keep a list of all your medicines and show it to your healthcare provider and pharmacist, and ask if it is safe to take BIKTARVY with all of your other medicines.
- ▶ If you are pregnant or plan to become pregnant. It is not known if BIKTARVY can harm your unborn baby. Tell your healthcare provider if you become pregnant while taking BIKTARVY.
- ▶ If you are breastfeeding (nursing) or plan to breastfeed. Do not breastfeed. HIV-1 can be passed to the baby in breast milk.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

Ask your healthcare provider if BIKTARVY is right for you.

Please see Important Facts about BIKTARVY, including important warnings, on the following page.

KEEP EMPOWERING.

Because HIV doesn't change who you are.

What is BIKTARVY?

BIKTARVY is a complete, 1-pill, once-a-day prescription medicine used to treat HIV-1 in adults. It can either be used in people who have never taken HIV-1 medicines before, or people who are replacing their current HIV-1 medicines and whose healthcare provider determines they meet certain requirements.

BIKTARVY does not cure HIV-1 or AIDS. HIV-1 is the virus that causes AIDS.

IMPORTANT FACTS

This is only a brief summary of important information about BIKTARVY[®] and does not replace talking to your healthcare provider about your condition and your treatment.

MOST IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT BIKTARVY

BIKTARVY may cause serious side effects, including:

- Worsening of hepatitis B (HBV) infection. If you have both HIV-1 and HBV, your HBV may suddenly get worse if you stop taking BIKTARVY. Do not stop taking BIKTARVY without first talking to your healthcare provider, as they will need to check your health regularly for several months.

ABOUT BIKTARVY

BIKTARVY is a complete, 1-pill, once-a-day prescription medicine used to treat HIV-1 in adults. It can either be used in people who have never taken HIV-1 medicines before, or people who are replacing their current HIV-1 medicines and whose healthcare provider determines they meet certain requirements.

BIKTARVY does not cure HIV-1 or AIDS. HIV-1 is the virus that causes AIDS.

Do NOT take BIKTARVY if you also take a medicine that contains:

- dofetilide
- rifampin
- any other medicines to treat HIV-1

BEFORE TAKING BIKTARVY

Tell your healthcare provider all your medical conditions, including if you:

- Have or have had any kidney or liver problems, including hepatitis infection.
- Are pregnant or plan to become pregnant.
- Are breastfeeding (nursing) or plan to breastfeed. Do not breastfeed if you have HIV-1 because of the risk of passing HIV-1 to your baby.

Tell your healthcare provider about all the medicines you take:

- Keep a list that includes all prescription and over-the-counter medicines, antacids, laxatives, vitamins, and herbal supplements, and show it to your healthcare provider and pharmacist.
- Ask your healthcare provider or pharmacist about medicines that interact with BIKTARVY.

POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS OF BIKTARVY

BIKTARVY can cause serious side effects, including:

- Those in the “Most Important Information About BIKTARVY” section.
- Changes in your immune system.
- New or worse kidney problems, including kidney failure.
- Too much lactic acid in your blood (lactic acidosis), which is a serious but rare medical emergency that can lead to death. LGBT Book Reviews by Terri Schlichenmeyer

"YAY! YOU'RE GAY! NOW WHAT? A GAY BOY'S GUIDE TO LIFE"

BY RIYADH KHALAF

c.2019, Frances Lincoln | $14.99 | 223 pages

The light beneath the door is just a sliver.

It's enticing, though, and you're eager to see what's on the other side, finally ready to open that door and come out. In "Yay! You're Gay! Now What?" by Riyadh Khalaf, you'll find some advice for doing it.

For awhile, months, maybe years, you've been "feeling different." You think you might be gay and that's "okay, it's normal, and it's not something you need to change." Or you may be bi or pan or non-binary, "it simply comes down to how you feel" and it may have everything or nothing to do with the anatomy you got at birth. The thing to remember is that "YOU CANNOT CHANGE WHO YOU ARE."

This may cause a lot of worry, for yourself and for people you love. Recognize that anxiety before it goes wild, and know how to break the cycle. Being gay, says Khalaf, is actually a "gift," as you'll eventually begin to see.

That's a gift you can share or not, says Khalaf, because "you can come out whenever and however you want," it's your call. Yes, family members might freak out at first and your friends might retreat but you'll find advice on how to cope with that, and a reminder that "almost every relationship is salvageable."

So let's say you're out, comfortable with it, and you're ready to find your first true love. It's okay to go online and look but Khalaf says to be wary: you know how easy it is to pretend you're someone you're not when you're on a computer, so be safe. Also be safe when you go to clubs or parties, and remember that protecting your heart is important, too. Relationships can be different, your first kiss can be amazing, and your body may respond in embarrassing ways to all of the above. And on that note, remember that consent is the new hot...

Here's the very first thing you'll need to know about "Yay! You're Gay! Now What?": absolutely anyone can read it – including parents and allies – but it's really geared toward gay teen boys and young men. Indeed, author Riyadh Khalaf includes pages expressly for those allies and parents, but later parts of the book are filled with valid information that may be more graphic than they'll want.

Still, that info will speak directly to the heart and the health of young men just coming out, in a way that's not stuffy or clinical, but that's more lightheartedly factual. Khalaf is gay and he uses his own personal anecdotes as tools to teach, but he's not pious or pushy. Instead, there's a whole lot of care and camaraderie in these pages, and the words "you are not alone" are not just written, but they leap from each page.

That could make this book a lifesaver for a boy with a dawning understanding but a short support system. "Yay! You're Gay! Now What" is serious but fun to read, and may help to shed some light.

MY BIG GAY LIFE

Brad Loekle

WY-OH-MING

I just performed in Wyoming. America's least populated state! Normally the idea of being in an utterly unpopulated area doesn't thrill me. I grew up real rural and that was more than enough for me. But, given the state of America at this time... I find the less people I have around me, the better. Now, I haven't lost my mind completely. And I promise this isn't going to turn into some tale about how I'm leaving the big city because I found love with a prairie dog. I went to Laramie, Wyoming to perform at Rendezvous: an all LGBT camping event. Just me and 400 queers out on the prairie. Yippie ki yay, mother fuckers.

I learned a lot about country gays. For instance, I met a group called YAG. They're an RV & camping gay group out of Colorado. They taught me that YAG is "GAY" spelled backwards. And I taught them that YAG also sounds like the sound you make when you're sloppily choking on a large dick. Go ahead, make the sound now and see if I'm not right. I'll wait...

I also gave them the new nickname for each other which is YAGGOT. A member of their group is now a Yaggot. You're welcome, Colorado.

I learned that insects in Wyoming need to simmer the fuck down. No really. Everything there is huge. Not all the dicks, mind you. Mother Nature still makes sure that all the dicks are a mixed bag. But the bugs. Sweet merciful Christ, the bugs are insane. I went over to the lesbian camp because I was told that they had the best snacks. While sitting in their pop-up screen house, I was directed to look at the human hand-sized beetle that had “somehow” gotten into the screen house. I assume it got in by unzipping the door and walking in. Right before it poured itself a scotch and put its way-too-many legs up. One of the ladies walked over and picked it up with her hand. Her actual flesh hand, and then proceeded to bring it closer to me so I could wonder at nature. “I’m good!”, I shrieked at the top of my lady lungs. I then explained that I learned long ago to leave nature well enough alone. I also learned that you should never shake or touch a lesbian’s bare hands. Because, gentlemen, a lesbian’s hands are also her dicks. Let that one sink in. Or, rather, don’t.

But most of all I learned that when our people get together... it’s always worthwhile. This event has been going on for 28 years. The very first year it was just 20 people. They set up tents... lacking the stage and outdoor showers and food trucks that they now have all these years later... threw their first party by circling all their trucks, turning on the lights, and tuning their radios to the one country music station they could get in the middle of nowhere. And they drank and danced and laughed and made a little community. This is what I love about our people: that we will find joy and laughter and family anywhere. I see it happen all around the world and I saw it Wyoming just last night. And I couldn’t be happier to be a big flaming homosexual. I hope you are too.

Brad Loekle was a semi-finalist on NBC’s “Last Comic Standing”. He can be seen every week on TruTV’s “World’s Dumbest”, has written for Joan Rivers on E! “Fashion Police” & tours internationally. His book, “My Big Gay Life” is available on Amazon and at www.bradloekle.com

Key West WOMENFEST September 4 - 8

The Florida Keys
& Key West
come as you are

Welcome To Key West WOMENFEST

Welcome to our little island paradise! Whether you are a first-time visitor or come to our island regularly we hope you enjoy your time here. This year we have a lot to celebrate! Forty years ago, a group of Gay owned businesses got together to form the Key West Business Guild. A lot has happened in the past 40 years.

Fifteen years ago, we showed our Pride with the unfurling of the Sea-to-shining-sea Rainbow Flag down Duval St. Gilbert Baker created the original Rainbow flag with its eight colors for San Francisco's Pride in 1978. Over the years two of the colors (hot pink and turquoise) had been dropped due to manufacturing issues. But in Key West 25 years later all eight of the original colors were streaming down Duval Street, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic Ocean. We are proud that a Rainbow Flag flies at Key West City Hall.

In addition to celebrating the Guild's 40th Anniversary, and the 15th Anniversary of the Sea-to-shining-sea flag we are celebrating WOMENFEST! This gives us the opportunity to demonstrate once more the guiding principle of this little island community with a big heart. We are indeed "One Human Family". It is our official motto and we proudly proclaim that to the millions of visitors we welcome every year.

"Close to Perfect, Far from Normal" sums us up just right!

So welcome to our quirky, fun, little island. Thank you for becoming a part of our family this week. We are glad you are here.

“We, the undersigned laity of the Florida Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church, are deeply grieved and heartbroken by results of the Special Session of the General Conference in St. Louis. ...We regret how the United Methodist Church has hurt our LGBTQIA+ family for decades, and how the recent adoption of the Traditional Plan has caused further pain already experienced by the LGBTQIA+ community. We believe the life and teaching of Jesus Christ reflects God’s love for all. ...”

“We wish to remain in dialogue with those who have different voices, and pray that we can become one church together celebrating and respecting the beautiful diversity of all God’s people wherever they may live. ...”

ASK NANA

E-mail your questions to nana@keywestgayrag.com

Dear Nana,

My boyfriend has this quirky sort of fetish. He likes me to fart on him. I swear I'm not making this up. He finds it a big turn on for me to fart on him. Before sex, as foreplay, during sex, whenever. I'm not against it, per se. I mean it gets him turned on and that's always my goal. But it also really doesn't do anything for me. And I worry that eventually he's going to want me to do it more and more. I want to be able to have sex without farting on him every time. Am I overreacting? What do you think?

Well, as my mother used to say, "Honey, every man's got some sort of kink. Best to find one you can live with before you live with him for life". As kinks go, this one is certainly far from the extreme. Even if it is a bit more fragrant than the usual BDSM. Listen, if it makes him happy... and that makes you happy... well then it can't be that bad, right? And as long as you keep up a high fiber diet, you shouldn't have any worries about running out of steam... or, in this case, gas. Obviously, there's always the fear that you misjudge a fart and end up in a bit of a shitty situation. But I'm sure he wouldn't blame you for that! You go down a rabbit hole, you're bound to find a rabbit now and then. So, I say, give him his farts. It's nice to do things for others.

Dear Nana,

My roommate uses silicone lube when he has sex. I know this because every doorknob in our house is like a lubed-up butt plug. And there are shiny hand prints on some walls, on furniture, and don't even get me started on the toilet seat. I've asked him to switch to a hybrid or a water-based lube but he says he doesn't like them. How do we find a happy middle ground?

Well, Slick Willy likes his willies slick, does he? Listen, far be it from me to judge which kinds of lube someone uses. Getting things in your asshole isn't always as easy as it seems and I can understand the want for a well-greased runway. That being said, I don't see why he can't clean up before he plays patty-cake with every piece of furniture in your shared spaces. Soap and hot water will get enough of it off so that there shouldn't be big old fuck-prints on everything he touches. And they do make specific silicone lube removers. If he's going to spend the money on the lube... and all the sheets he's probably ruined by now... he might as well spend some on the aftermath. It's totally fair for you to draw that line. I mean, you should be able to open a cabinet without feeling like you just stuck your hand inside of a home birth. Right? Shared spaces need to be shared fairly. And preferably in a manner gentle enough so as not to require lubricant.

DO YOU HAVE PROBLEMS? OF COURSE YOU DO! WHY NOT LET NANA HELP YOU?!
