LEZ
GO OUT

Lesbians. It's our month!! Well, our week at the very least but I KNOW that we start the party waaaay earlier than the ordained week of Womenfest in Key West. September 7th through the 11th lesbians from all over the world will descend upon the keys to meet, greet and hook up and even the locals are very excited. We wait all year for this! Some women have been coming since it's inception and others are Womenfest virgins. Then there are the women who moved here after their first exposure! You know who you are. For those of you finding this event for the first time this year, let me fill you in...

There are.... clears throat and takes deep breath women dedicated sunset sails on the Argo Navis (get tickets early - it sells out every year), drag shows just for us (Love you Aquanettes!!!), beach bash and cornhole tournaments (love those sports bras and running shorts), comedy shows with a locally famous lez, poetry readings (super lesbian - did someone invite Ani?), jazz club nights, burlesque shows (!!!), clothing optional dance parties (every body is a beach body, baby), beach cleanups (so lesbian), sandbar and snorkel trips (more sports bras and board shorts), silent auctions (we love a good cause), tutu parties (no tutu, no entry - yes, even you, Sandy), shades of pink parties (who's checking the pink attire at the door?), live music by outstanding local artists and things that happen after hours and within our host hotels (Alexander's Guest House and Silver Palms Inn - just to name a few) that aren't fit to print... if you're playing your cards right. Wait, did I hear a rumor of a Texas Hold'em game somewhere?

This event is legendary. Truly. This year promises to be one for the books, what with all of that pent up sexual tension, tik tok thirst traps and 2000 mile road trip love affairs culminating into one five day release and all. Even the married and partnered couples are venturing out of nested dens to see and be seen again. I'm certain they'll loan out their Uhauls to the next Gen. The last couple of years have taken the wind out of many sails and this island is ready to make up for lost time and blow us all away.

So after you get your fill of this year's extensive list of events, let me know what you loved, hated and want more of in events to come. I'm happy to share your thoughts with the organizers and make more of what YOU (my darling lesbian sisters) want appear in the lineup in years to come. I can't wait to tutu with you (I'm definitely dragging Sandy along by the glittered pant pocket to the tutu event)! Lez Go Out and ROCK Womenfest Key West 2022! Can't wait to see all of you #le$beans around town and make this year a new benchmark for the event's history!

KEEP BEING YOU.

Because HIV doesn't change who you are.

BIKTARVY* is a complete, 1-pill, once-a-day prescription medicine used to treat HIV-1 in certain adults. BIKTARVY does not cure HIV-1 or AIDS.

Ask your healthcare provider if BIKTARVY is right for you.

IMPORTANT FACTS FOR BIKTARVY®

This is only a brief summary of important information about BIKTARVY and does not replace talking to your healthcare provider about your condition and your treatment.

(bik-TAR-vee)

MOST IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT BIKTARVY

BIKTARVY may cause serious side effects, including:

- ▶ Worsening of hepatitis B (HBV) infection. Your healthcare provider will test you for HBV. If you have both HIV-1 and HBV, your HBV may suddenly get worse if you stop taking BIKTARVY. Do not stop taking BIKTARVY without first talking to your healthcare provider, as they will need to check your health regularly for several months, and may give you HBV medicine.

ABOUT BIKTARVY

BIKTARVY is a complete, 1-pill, once-a-day prescription medicine used to treat HIV-1 in adults and children who weigh at least 55 pounds. It can either be used in people who have never taken HIV-1 medicines before, or people who are replacing their current HIV-1 medicines and whose healthcare provider determines they meet certain requirements.

BIKTARVY does not cure HIV-1 or AIDS. HIV-1 is the virus that causes AIDS.

Do NOT take BIKTARVY if you also take a medicine that contains:

- ▶ dofetilide
- ▶ rifampin
- ▶ any other medicines to treat HIV-1

POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS OF BIKTARVY

BIKTARVY may cause serious side effects, including:

- ▶ Those in the "Most Important Information About BIKTARVY" section.
- ▶ Changes in your immune system. Your immune system may get stronger and begin to fight infections that may have been hidden in your body.

Tell your healthcare provider if you have any new symptoms after you start taking BIKTARVY.

- ▶ Kidney problems, including kidney failure. Your healthcare provider should do blood and urine tests to check your kidneys. If you develop new or worse kidney problems, they may tell you to stop taking BIKTARVY.
- ▶ Too much lactic acid in your blood (lactic acidosis), which is a serious but rare medical emergency that can lead to death. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you get these symptoms: weakness or being more tired than usual, unusual muscle pain, being short of breath or fast breathing, stomach pain with nausea and vomiting, cold or blue hands and feet, feel dizzy or lightheaded, or a fast or abnormal heartbeat.
- ▶ Severe liver problems, which in rare cases can lead to death. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you get these symptoms: skin or the white part of your eyes turns yellow, dark "tea-colored" urine, light-colored stools, loss of appetite for several days or longer, nausea, or stomach-area pain.
- ▶ The most common side effects of BIKTARVY in clinical studies were diarrhea (6%), nausea (6%), and headache (5%).

These are not all the possible side effects of BIKTARVY. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you have any new symptoms while taking BIKTARVY.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.FDA.gov/medwatch or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

Your healthcare provider will need to do tests to monitor your health before and during treatment with BIKTARVY.

IMPORTANT FACTS FOR BIKTARVY® (cont'd)

BEFORE TAKING BIKTARVY

Tell your healthcare provider if you:

- ▶ Have or have had any kidney or liver problems, including hepatitis infection.
- ▶ Have any other health problems.
- ▶ Are pregnant or plan to become pregnant. It is not known if BIKTARVY can harm your unborn baby. Tell your healthcare provider if you become pregnant while taking BIKTARVY.
- ▶ Are breastfeeding (nursing) or plan to breastfeed. Do not breastfeed. HIV-1 can be passed to the baby in breast milk.

Tell your healthcare provider about all the medicines you take:

- ▶ Keep a list that includes all prescription and over-the-counter medicines, antacids, laxatives, vitamins, and herbal supplements, and show it to your healthcare provider and pharmacist.

- ▶ BIKTARVY and other medicines may affect each other. Ask your healthcare provider and pharmacist about medicines that interact with BIKTARVY, and ask if it is safe to take BIKTARVY with all your other medicines.

HOW TO TAKE BIKTARVY

Take BIKTARVY 1 time each day with or without food.

GET MORE INFORMATION

- ▶ This is only a brief summary of important information about BIKTARVY. Talk to your healthcare provider or pharmacist to learn more.

"MAGIC SEASON: A SON'S STORY" BY WADE ROUSE

c.2022, Hanover Square Press | $27.99 | 304 pages

You've always looked up to your dad.

Sometimes it happened literally, like when you were a child and "up" was the only way to see his face hovering over yours. You've looked up at him in anger, embarrassment, dismissal, and yeah, you've looked up to him in the best ways, too – never forgetting, as in the memoir "Magic Season" by Wade Rouse, that sometimes, the hardest thing is seeing eye-to-eye.

Wade Rouse threw like a girl.

He couldn't catch a baseball, either, and he wasn't much of a runner as a young boy. He tried, because his father insisted on it but Rouse was better with words and books and thoughts.. He was nothing like his elder brother, Todd, who was a natural hunter, a good sportsman, and an athlete, and their father never let Rouse forget it.

And yet, curiously, Rouse and his dad bonded over baseball.

Specifically, their love of Cardinals baseball became the one passion they shared. The stats, the players, the idea that "Anything can happen," the hope that there'd be a World Series at the end of every season was the glue they needed. It was what saved them when Todd was killed in a motorcycle accident. When Rouse came out to his father, Cards baseball was what brought them back together after two years of estrangement.

In between games, though, and between seasons, there was yelling, cruelty, and all the times when father and son didn't communicate. Rouse accepted, but didn't like, his father's alcoholism or his harsh life-lessons: his father didn't like Rouse's plans for his own future. Rouse admits that he cried a lot, and he was surprised at the rare times when his father displayed emotion – especially since an Ozarks man like Ted Rouse didn't do things like that.

Until the time was right.

Love, Wade Rouse says, is "shaped like a baseball." You catch it, throw it, or hit it out of the park, but "You don't know where it's going."

Just be sure you never take "your eye off it, from beginning to end."

Oh, my. Oh, my, but "Magic Season" is a ten-hankie book.

First, though, you're going to laugh because author Wade Rouse is a natural-born humorist and his family is a great launching-pad for him despite the splinters and near-clawing despair of the overall theme of this book. That sense of humor can't seem to let a good story go, even when it's obvious that there's something heartbreaking waiting in the bullpen.

Which brings us to the father-son-baseball triple-play. It may seem to some readers that such a book has been done and done again, but this one feels different. Rouse excels at filling in the blanks on the other, essential teammates in this tale and, like any big skirmish, readers are left breathless, now knowing the final score until the last out.

If you like your memoirs sweet, but with a dash of spice and some tears, right here you go. For you, "Magic Season" is a book to look up.

MY BIG GAY LIFE

Brad Loekle

PROFILING

So, a friend of mine challenged me to create a bunch of online dating profiles just to see what sort of men are out there in the “looking for a serious commitment” category. Not that I am one of those men, but he thought that, at the least, I would find the dating profile world funny. Now, having waded into the waters of everything from “Plenty of Fish” to “Farmer’s Only” all I can say is, “What the ever-loving fuck is wrong with all you people?!” How on Earth do you think these dating profile questions (and answers) will lead to anything other than broken dreams?!

One of the sites had me answer over 50 questions. There are less questions on most nation’s immigration exam. If France can figure out if I’m worth having in less than 50 questions, so should you, Dante! Oh, and of those 50 questions, one of them was:

“What are 3 things you would want with you during the apocalypse?”

Are you kidding me? Did George Orwell write this compatibility quiz? Am I supposed to say, “I’d want my perfect soulmate by my side to weather the storm of flesh eating, vampiric pugs that evolved after the first bombs dropped?”

No, what I want is a hand gun with one bullet in it, a line of very good cocaine, and Jason Momoa. Because, after I finish the glass of champagne, I'm going to need the gun to convince Jason Momoa to ham slam me, after which, I'll shoot myself in the head and skip the rest of the apocalypse. Does my honest answer do well in a dating profile?

Oh, and stop listing basic human things as your hobbies, interests, or personalities. Saying you like "the mountains and the beach" means you like 9/10s of all the land on the planet. You basically just don't like being stranded in the desert. Yeah, we sort of assumed that, Lucas. Thanks. Oh, you like movies, and music and going out? That just makes you a minimally existing human being. Let me guess, you also like inhaling oxygen and then exhaling carbon dioxide, right?! OMG, we're fucking soulmates!

Oh, and finally, please don't put phrases in your profile like "(blank kind of) guys move to the front of the line". There is no line, Jeffrey. You're a 37-year-old "plant dad" who is resorting to interactive Tiger Beat dating quizzes to try and randomly find someone to settle for. There is no line of guys forming outside your pants. Your bussy is not a Nike store.

ASK NANA

E-mail your questions to nana@keywestgayrag.com

Dear Nana,

My sister lets her kids run wild everywhere: at family events, in my house, in stores and restaurants. My boyfriend says I shouldn't say anything because you can't tell people how to raise their kids. But honestly, if this is how she's going to let her children be in the world, I don't know what I want to be around them. Is there a way to talk to her about this in a manner that won't cause World War 3?

First of all, I'm hung up on how they're allowed to run wild in YOUR house. None of us can control anyone's behavior anywhere in the world... except in our own damn house. They can depreciate their parent's property value all they like, but you so much as scuff my floors and I'll duct tape you to a tree for the birds to have at you! But, on a serious note, this is a sensitive subject. I wouldn't start with ultimatums, like, "if you don't get your hellions under control, I'm not letting them in my house." Maybe ask if she ever feels overwhelmed when the kids are so "active" in public places? If they're old enough to be in school, then I'm sure it's an issue the school has brought up. As well as any gay man who has had the misfortune of being on a plane with your relatives. Try to come from a place of love not a place of demands. And, if all else fails, trip the little bastards into something hard. That'll learn them.

Dear Nana,

Can you settle an age-old debate between me and my friends? Is toilet paper supposed to go on the holder with sheet you pull going over the front of the roll or underneath and behind? We debate this constantly when we get drunk.

God, you kids really need to get some hobbies. Or stop not-admitting to me that you're also stoned. Because this is a stoned debate if ever I've heard one. Well, I saw a meme thingy on the Facebook once that claimed to show the original patent for toilet paper. And it showed the paper going up and over. Which is also how I do it. And is also the normal human way to put toilet paper on a holder. But I'd love it if you all would maybe talk about the mid-terms more now that this matter has been resolved.

DO YOU HAVE PROBLEMS? OF COURSE YOU DO! WHY NOT LET NANA HELP YOU?!

WHORE--SCOPES

AQUARIUS JAN 20 - FEB 18

It's going to be swarming season again soon. Everyone will be swarming away from you.

PISCES FEB 19 - MAR 20

If you gain anymore weight, you won't be allowed on any of the bridges off the Keys.

ARIES MAR 21 - APR 19

Don't forget to vote in the midterm elections. Call it a night out since you can't afford anything more.

TAURUS APR 20 - MAY 20

You need a warning label. May cause drowsiness, boredom, depression, etc.

GEMINI MAY 21 - JUN 20

If only your teeth were as white as your legs.

CANCER JUN 21 - JUL 22

You're so old your birth certificate is on a stone tablet.

LEO JUL 23 - AUG 22

A body like yours doesn't happen overnight. It takes years and lots of cake.

VIRGO AUG 23 - SEP 22

You could run into a wall with an erection and break your nose.

LIBRA SEP 23 - OCT 22

You're so fake that it says "Made in China" behind your ear.

SCORPIO OCT 23 - NOV 21

It's time to see a foot doctor. I've seen less fungus in a container of mushrooms.

SAGITTARIUS NOV 22 - DEC 21

Don't worry about having a bad back. Your front isn't great either!

CAPRICORN DEC 22 - JAN 19

Congratulations, you hit a milestone. Your weight is the same as your area code!
