What is STRIBILD?

STRIBILD is a prescription medicine used to treat HIV-1 in adults who have never taken HIV-1 medicines before. It combines 4 medicines into 1 pill to be taken once a day with food. STRIBILD is a complete single-tablet regimen and should not be used with other HIV-1 medicines.

STRIBILD does not cure HIV-1 infection or AIDS. To control HIV-1 infection and decrease HIV-related illnesses you must keep taking STRIBILD. Ask your healthcare provider if you have questions about how to reduce the risk of passing HIV-1 to others. Always practice safer sex and use condoms to lower the chance of sexual contact with body fluids. Never reuse or share needles or other items that have body fluids on them.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

What is the most important information I should know about STRIBILD?

STRIBILD can cause serious side effects:

- Build-up of an acid in your blood (lactic acidosis), which is a serious medical emergency. Symptoms of lactic acidosis include feeling very weak or tired, unusual (not normal) muscle pain, trouble breathing, stomach pain with nausea or vomiting, feeling cold especially in your arms and legs, feeling dizzy or lightheaded, and/or a fast or irregular heartbeat.
- Serious liver problems. The liver may become large (hepatomegaly) and fatty (steatosis). Symptoms of liver problems include your skin or the white part of your eyes turns yellow (jaundice), dark "tea-colored" urine, light-colored bowel movements (stools), loss of appetite for several days or longer, nausea, and/or stomach pain.
- You may be more likely to get lactic acidosis or serious liver problems if you are female, very overweight (obese), or have been taking STRIBILD for a long time. In some cases, these serious conditions have led to death. Call your healthcare provider right away if you have any symptoms of these conditions.

- Worsening of hepatitis B (HBV) infection. If you also have HBV and stop taking STRIBILD, your hepatitis may suddenly get worse. Do not stop taking STRIBILD without first talking to your healthcare provider, as they will need to monitor your health. STRIBILD is not approved for the treatment of HBV.

Who should not take STRIBILD?

Do not take STRIBILD if you:

- Take a medicine that contains: alfuzosin, dihydroergotamine, ergotamine, methylergonovine, cisapride, lovastatin, simvastatin, pimozide, sildenafil when used for lung problems (Revatio®), triazolam, oral midazolam, rifampin or the herb St. John's wort.
- For a list of brand names for these medicines, please see the Brief Summary on the following pages.
- Take any other medicines to treat HIV-1 infection, or the medicine adefovir (Hepsera®).

What are the other possible side effects of STRIBILD?

Serious side effects of STRIBILD may also include:

- New or worse kidney problems, including kidney failure. Your healthcare provider should do regular blood and urine tests to check your kidneys before and during treatment with STRIBILD. If you develop kidney problems, your healthcare provider may tell you to stop taking STRIBILD.
- Bone problems, including bone pain or bones getting soft or thin, which may lead to fractures. Your healthcare provider may do tests to check your bones.
- Changes in body fat can happen in people taking HIV-1 medicines.
- Changes in your immune system. Your immune system may get stronger and begin to fight infections. Tell your healthcare provider if you have any new symptoms after you start taking STRIBILD.

The most common side effects of STRIBILD include nausea and diarrhea. Tell your healthcare provider if you have any side effects that bother you or don't go away.

What should I tell my healthcare provider before taking STRIBILD?

- All your health problems. Be sure to tell your healthcare provider if you have or had any kidney, bone, or liver problems, including hepatitis virus infection.
- All the medicines you take, including prescription and nonprescription medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements. STRIBILD may affect the way other medicines work, and other medicines may affect how STRIBILD works. Keep a list of all your medicines and show it to your healthcare provider and pharmacist. Do not start any new medicines while taking STRIBILD without first talking with your healthcare provider.
- If you take hormone-based birth control (pills, patches, rings, shots, etc).
- If you take antacids. Take antacids at least 2 hours before or after you take STRIBILD.
- If you are pregnant or plan to become pregnant. It is not known if STRIBILD can harm your unborn baby. Tell your healthcare provider if you become pregnant while taking STRIBILD.
- If you are breastfeeding (nursing) or plan to breastfeed. Do not breastfeed. HIV-1 can be passed to the baby in breast milk. Also, some medicines in STRIBILD can pass into breast milk, and it is not known if this can harm the baby.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

Please see Brief Summary of full Prescribing Information with important warnings on the following pages.

Brief summary of full Prescribing Information. For more information, please see the full Prescribing Information, including Patient Information.

What is STRIBILD?

- STRIBILD is a prescription medicine used to treat HIV-1 in adults who have never taken HIV-1 medicines before. STRIBILD is a complete regimen and should not be used with other HIV-1 medicines.
- STRIBILD does not cure HIV-1 or AIDS. You must stay on continuous HIV-1 therapy to control HIV-1 infection and decrease HIV-related illnesses.
- Ask your healthcare provider about how to prevent passing HIV-1 to others. Do not share or reuse needles, injection equipment, or personal items that can have blood or body fluids on them. Do not have sex without protection. Always practice safer sex by using a latex or polyurethane condom to lower the chance of sexual contact with semen, vaginal secretions, or blood.

What is the most important information I should know about STRIBILD?

STRIBILD can cause serious side effects, including:

1. Build-up of lactic acid in your blood (lactic acidosis). Lactic acidosis can happen in some people who take STRIBILD or similar (nucleoside analogs) medicines. Lactic acidosis is a serious medical emergency that can lead to death. Lactic acidosis can be hard to identify early, because the symptoms could seem like symptoms of other health problems. Call your healthcare provider right away if you get any of the following symptoms which could be signs of lactic acidosis:

- feel very weak or tired
- have unusual (not normal) muscle pain
- have trouble breathing
- have stomach pain with nausea or vomiting
- feel cold, especially in your arms and legs
- feel dizzy or lightheaded
- have a fast or irregular heartbeat

2. Severe liver problems. Severe liver problems can happen in people who take STRIBILD. In some cases, these liver problems can lead to death. Your liver may become large (hepatomegaly) and you may develop fat in your liver (steatosis). Call your healthcare provider right away if you get any of the following symptoms of liver problems:

- your skin or the white part of your eyes turns yellow (jaundice)
- dark “tea-colored” urine
- light-colored bowel movements (stools)
- loss of appetite for several days or longer
- nausea
- stomach pain

You may be more likely to get lactic acidosis or severe liver problems if you are female, very overweight (obese), or have been taking STRIBILD for a long time.

- 3. Worsening of Hepatitis B infection. If you have hepatitis B virus (HBV) infection and take STRIBILD, your HBV may get worse (flare-up) if you stop taking STRIBILD. A “flare-up” is when your HBV infection suddenly returns in a worse way than before.
- Do not run out of STRIBILD. Refill your prescription or talk to your healthcare provider before your STRIBILD is all gone
  - Do not stop taking STRIBILD without first talking to your healthcare provider
  - If you stop taking STRIBILD, your healthcare provider will need to check your health often and do blood tests regularly for several months to check your HBV infection. Tell your healthcare provider about any new or unusual symptoms you may have after you stop taking STRIBILD

Who should not take STRIBILD?

Do not take STRIBILD if you also take a medicine that contains:

- adefovir (Hepsera®)
- alfuzosin hydrochloride (Uroxatral®)
- cisapride (Propulsid®, Propulsid Quicksolv®)
- ergot-containing medicines, including: dihydroergotamine mesylate (D.H.E. 45®, Migranal®), ergotamine tartrate (Cafergot®, Migergot®, Ergostat®, Medihaler Ergotamine®, Wigraine®, Wigrettes®), and methylergonovine maleate (Ergotrate®, Methergine®)
- lovastatin (Advicor®, Altoprev®, Mevacor®)
- oral midazolam
- pimozide (Orap®)
- rifampin (Rifadin®, Rifamate®, Rifater®, Rimactane®)
- sildenafil (Revatio®), when used for treating lung problems
- simvastatin (Simcor®, Vytorin®, Zocor®)
- triazolam (Halcion®)
- the herb St. John’s wort

Do not take STRIBILD if you also take any other HIV-1 medicines, including:

- Other medicines that contain tenofovir (Atripla®, Complera®, Viread®, Truvada®)
- Other medicines that contain emtricitabine, lamivudine, or ritonavir (Atripla®, Combivir®, Complera®, Emtriva®, Epivir® or Epivir-HBV®, Epizicom®, Kaletra®, Norvir®, Trizivir®, Truvada®)

STRIBILD is not for use in people who are less than 18 years old.

What are the possible side effects of STRIBILD?

STRIBILD may cause the following serious side effects:

- See “What is the most important information I should know about STRIBILD?”
- New or worse kidney problems, including kidney failure. Your healthcare provider should do blood and urine tests to check your kidneys before you start and while you are taking STRIBILD. Your healthcare provider may tell you to stop taking STRIBILD if you develop new or worse kidney problems.
- Bone problems can happen in some people who take STRIBILD. Bone problems include bone pain, softening or thinning (which may lead to fractures). Your healthcare provider may need to do tests to check your bones.
- Changes in body fat can happen in people who take HIV-1 medicine. These changes may include increased amount of fat in the upper back and neck (“buffalo hump”), breast, and around the middle of your body (trunk). Loss of fat from the legs, arms and face may also happen. The exact cause and long-term health effects of these conditions are not known.
- Changes in your immune system (Immune Reconstitution Syndrome) can happen when you start taking HIV-1 medicines. Your immune system may get stronger and begin to fight infections that have been hidden in your body for a long time. Tell your healthcare provider right away if you start having any new symptoms after starting your HIV-1 medicine.

The most common side effects of STRIBILD include:

- Nausea
- Diarrhea

Tell your healthcare provider if you have any side effect that bothers you or that does not go away.

- These are not all the possible side effects of STRIBILD. For more information, ask your healthcare provider.
- Call your healthcare provider for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

What should I tell my healthcare provider before taking STRIBILD?

Tell your healthcare provider about all your medical conditions, including:

- If you have or had any kidney, bone, or liver problems, including hepatitis B infection
- If you are pregnant or plan to become pregnant. It is not known if STRIBILD can harm your unborn baby. Tell your healthcare provider if you become pregnant while taking STRIBILD.
  - There is a pregnancy registry for women who take antiviral medicines during pregnancy. The purpose of this registry is to collect information about the health of you and your baby. Talk with your healthcare provider about how you can take part in this registry.
- If you are breastfeeding (nursing) or plan to breastfeed. Do not breastfeed if you take STRIBILD.
  - You should not breastfeed if you have HIV-1 because of the risk of passing HIV-1 to your baby.
  - Two of the medicines in STRIBILD can pass to your baby in your breast milk. It is not known if the other medicines in STRIBILD can pass into your breast milk.
  - Talk with your healthcare provider about the best way to feed your baby.

Tell your healthcare provider about all the medicines you take, including prescription and nonprescription medicines, vitamins, and herbal supplements:

- STRIBILD may affect the way other medicines work, and other medicines may affect how STRIBILD works.
- Be sure to tell your healthcare provider if you take any of the following medicines:
  - Hormone-based birth control (pills, patches, rings, shots, etc)
  - Antacid medicines that contain aluminum, magnesium hydroxide, or calcium carbonate. Take antacids at least 2 hours before or after you take STRIBILD
  - Medicines to treat depression, organ transplant rejection, or high blood pressure
  - amiodarone (Cordarone®, Pacerone®)
  - atorvastatin (Lipitor®, Caduet®)
  - bepridil hydrochloride (Vasacor®, Bepadin®)
  - bosentan (Tracleer®)
  - buspirone
  - carbamazepine (Carbatrol®, Epitol®, Equetro®, Tegretol®)
  - clarithromycin (Biaxin®, Prevpac®)

- clonazepam (Klonopin®)
- clorazepate (Gen-xene®, Tranxene®)
- colchicine (Colcrys®)
- medicines that contain dexamethasone
- diazepam (Valium®)
- digoxin (Lanoxin®)
- disopyramide (Norpace®)
- estazolam
- ethosuximide (Zarontin®)
- flecainide (Tambocor®)
- flurazepam
- fluticasone (Flovent®, Flonase®, Flovent® Diskus®, Flovent® HFA, Veramyst®)
- itraconazole (Sporanox®)

CUM ON... REALLY?

by: Brad Loekle

So when I'm not onstage or on the road, I am an avid and adventurous chef. For years before becoming a full time comedian I worked in restaurants in New York City and usually ended up dating someone in the kitchen, which got me very into cooking at home. Because of this, friends have gotten into the habit of giving me unusual and exotic cookbooks, spices, and various ingredients as gifts. But recently my tour manager and good friend, Greg, really took the cake. In fact, I wish it had just been a cake he'd given me. But alas, it was a cookbook, a very slim volume simply entitled, "Natural Harvest". Natural Harvest is, in all seriousness, a cookbook filled exclusively with semen-based recipes. That's right, from not-so-appetizing appetizers to man juice inspired main courses it's all there! Let me quell any of your fears on where this journey is going... I have not attempted ANY of the recipes. And I think it's safe to say I won't anytime soon... or later. Most of the recipes are just basic, traditional preparations of various dishes like eggplant parmesan, panna cotta, etc. But with 1-2 tablespoons of culinary cum added in. But one recipe really stood out. It is a recipe for "Man Oysters". It is probably the simplest dish to prepare in the menu and also the most terrifying when you think about cumming head to head with it at a dinner party.

To some extent, Man Oysters are a dish based on leftovers. And who doesn't love a creative use of the remnants of last night? It requires you first to purchase and consume a dozen good quality raw oysters. The author says it doesn't matter if they are East Coast or West Coast oysters which I'm sure we'll all find a relief because THAT'S what was really worrying us about preparing this dish. After you have a lovely night of raw bar, you're to delicately wash, dry and save the shells from the oysters. They will then be used as the "staging" for your Man Oysters. Next the book say you should procure about 8-10 tablespoons of the highest quality semen you can find. This is found fascinating because the author doesn't give any hints as to how to procure so much sperm all at once or how to tell if it's "high quality". Does the FDA have a certification for cum? Should I look for Black Angus balls or Organic orgasms? Anyhoo, once you've gathered the goo, you're to keep it chilled in the refrigerator to preserve freshness. As a side note, the cookbook never indicates how long you can keep cum on ice before it "turns". But for the record, I'm going to start rooting around the shaft and scrotum for a "best by" date from now on! Next, you're supposed to use rock salt to make little mounds where the oyster shells will lay. This prevents the shells from wobbling around spilling your seed all over the place. Then simply ladle the love juice into each shell and garnish with a crack of pepper and a spritz of lemon juice. The author then goes to great pains to point out that this lemon-pepper garnish is completely optional and that true cum-connoisseurs would forgo this to simply enjoy the flavor palette of the cum on it's own.

If you've read this far without dry heaving or at least getting a douche-chill through your whole body... you're a better man than I. Suffice it to say, this is now my most prized culinary possession and also the only one I will never, ever, over my dead body use at all.

But I certainly know what everyone on my Christmas list is getting from me this year!

ZACHARY MOSES : MAN ABOUT TOWN

I just got back from Ireland. Oh My God! I thought we did a lot of drinking in Key West. My Liver has a good deal more scar tissue in it at the end of this journey. In Ireland everyone drinks whiskey like it's water, and Guinness like it's...good beer. After my 10 day visit, I was ready to come home and dry out. (Did I just say something crazy?) In trying to be a teetotaler, I'm reminded of what a great string of gay watering holes our town has. So in honor of my abstinence from all liquors, here is my suggestion for a Key West Gay Duval Street bar crawl.

Friday night – Feeling Fine: you've just finished dinner with your sisters and it's time to start crawling. You've had two glasses of wine with dinner, and you are feelin' it! You've heard that the real fun starts late in Key West, so you figure you'll keep this wine buzz going.

First stop – 9 pm – Feeling Classy: Vino's Wine bar (810 Duval). Sit on the porch and order a bottle of their best Spanish wine to celebrate your vacation. You can buy wine by the glass, but this is Key West... have the bottle. Sit back, relax, watch the cuties stroll past, and giggle at the drag queens across the street teasing that poor lady and her hubby from Illinois. Move along!

Second Stop – 10 pm – Feeling Naughty: Bourbon Street Pub (724 Duval). The dick dancers are in their boy shorts and they're tearing up the bar top. Drop in all casual, find a chair, act like you don't care about the muscled man with the donkey dick wagging in your face! Chat with your friends and nonchalantly shove some money in his crotch pocket. Bourbon is a great stop for draft beer! After an hour you're getting the hard sell (*snicker*), and you move on like an animal on the prowl.

Third Stop – 11 pm – Feeling Rowdy: Agua Nightclub (711 Duval). Tonight's show: "Reality is a Drag." Might I suggest a Rum Runner? You're invincible, try a straight scotch or bourbon! Sing along to this fabulous drag show, but don't forget to tip the ladies! You're hammered, and you really should go back to your hotel...but you won't.

Fourth Stop – midnight – Feeling Raunchy as Hell: Saloon One (801 Duval). Time for "Cock Shock". Tonight locals and visitors will be going head to head (Yes, I said that) to see who's got the biggest package. If you aren't feeling up to yanking out your manhood, might I suggest we destroy this evening by bringing out the tequila shots? Hell you're not going to remember tonight, so how about you buy a round for the bar? Entering this competition is pretty much guaranteed to win you some tail, so don't forget to play safe!

Terri Schlichenmeyer

“This is a Book for Parents of Gay Kids” by Dannielle Owens-Reid & Kristin Russo

c.2014, Chronicle Books

$18.95

240 pages

You didn't know what to expect.

When your child told you he's gay, it came as a bit of a shock even though you kinda knew already. As he was telling you, though, he was nervous, you were nervous, but the conversation went well.

You love your gay son or daughter— but you have about a thousand questions. So maybe the next thing to do is to read “This is a Book for Parents of Gay Kids” by Dannielle Owens-Reid & Kristin Russo.

Who would've thought that two little words – “I'm gay” – would cause so much confusion? That's what you've felt ever since your son or daughter came out to you and that's “completely normal.” Working through this journey will undoubtedly be something new – but then again, aren't there always a lot of firsts in parenthood?

It's possible that this may be new to your child, too. He may've only recently understood that he's gay and talking about it “can sometimes be scary!” Patience is key here, as is having a home environment that's accepting. And yes, you can gently (and calmly) ask respectful questions; you are, in fact, encouraged to do so. It's the only way you can understand your child better.

Knowing that your child is gay is not license to broadcast it, however. Telling others largely depends on many factors and situations, and it's really up to the feelings of you and your child. Again, communication is important so you're both clear on who to tell, and when. It's also important to understand that this is a process for loved ones, as well as for you, and that you'll need to "give some room" for their responses.

Expect changes in your child, but remember that she's still the same kid. Know your child's rights in schools, restrooms, and bullying issues. Talk to your child about sex, and be firm on house rules – especially for sleepovers. Keep a close eye out for any signs of depression or suicide. Be patient, strive for understanding, and talk, talk, talk.

And when it comes to your faith, remember this: "Nearly every religion hinges on love" and you love your child. Isn't that what matters?

Maybe you knew. Or maybe the news had you totally gobsmacked. Either way, you've got questions and "This is a Book for Parents of Gay Kids" has answers.

Springing from the website that authors Dannielle Owens-Reid & Kristin Russo created (everyoneisgay.com), this book offers succinct advice, sensible comfort, and a glossary of terms that the authors encourage parents to know. I liked that it's comprehensive and not overwritten, and that it's browse-able and not necessarily meant for cover-to-cover reading. That's helpful, because the questions you may ask now are "very different from the questions you may have a year from now."

If your child has just come out – or if you suspect she might – then this book may be the best information you can have. Find "This is a Book for Parents of Gay Kids" and you'll know more of what to expect.

*We bet you will love living in Key West
as much as we do.*

If you have some hot gossip, email us at tea@qkeywest.com. We'll keep your name a secret because we know how to keep secrets!*

It seems a certain local was trying to make out with a straight photographer!

Drunk texting is so 2010. The latest thing is drunk Facebooking. Instead of showing one person what an ass you can be, show everyone!

Don't barge past the door guy at a local bar and expect the manager to help you when you get thrown out. You are not that important.

While talking about arrogant locals, not tipping a bartender because you are also "in the biz" shows that you have no no idea how the "biz" works! You deserved to be ignored from that point forward.

We always hear how certain pageants or events are rigged and it seems that the only ones that claim that are the ones that clearly should have lost. Suck it up and improve next time. Don't blame everyone else for your shortcomings.

Ask Nana

E-mail your questions to nana@keywestgayrag.com

Dear Nana,

A really great guy I've gone on a few dates with asked me to do something I thought was really weird in bed the last time we hooked up. He wanted me to squat on his face and fart on it. Although I was sort of hesitant to do it, he got REALLY turned on by it and then after a few farts we had amazing sex. Should I be worried about his kinky fart thing or should I just let it go?

Listen, Sir Farts-a-Lot, you've always going to have to put up with something in a relationship. I'd much rather have a man who likes me to toot on his temple than have a man who's a mean drunk or a liar or a cheater. Besides, most men and women are nervous to fart in front of their lovers at all. At least when you do it's considered foreplay! So I say order an extra aide of coleslaw and beans the next time you go out to dinner and let her rip!!

Dear Nana,

My boyfriend loves his dog. Like looooves his dog. I think he loves his dog more than anyone else on earth including me. He tells people his dog is his child and posts at least 15 photos a day of his dog to Facebook and won't go anywhere on vacation where we can't bring the dog. And I'm just wondering if this is going to work with dating him. I love animals too and I do love his dog. But I don't know that I live my whole life for what a 4-year-old pug wants to do. Am I being selfish? Do you think I should talk to him?

Well, Sugar Balls, this is a tough one. People do get a little bit crazy over their canines today. Sure I've had pets that I've loved to pieces but in the end, in my day, a pet was still a pet. When people tell me their pet is like their child, I think, "I don't think you know what children are like. First of all, everyone LOVES a pet?!" But all kidding aside, if your man is going to put the needs of his pet in front of the needs of his partner that says a lot. And what it says most is, he might not be ready for a partner. It's hard enough when the man you love puts work first or family first or even his own wants and whimsies first... and you always second. It's another thing when the what he puts first is a small animal that licks it's own ass and has cheese farts every other day. So I'd say talk to him gently about it... but definitely talk to him.

*Do you have problems? Of course you do!!
Why not let Nana help you?! Send your questions to:
